CARE OF BRASS BASED WINDOW & DOOR HANDLE FINISHES.

We highly recommend that your window and door fittings are cleaned at least once a month.

LACQUERED POLISHED BRASS & LACQUERED SATIN BRASS

Regular cleaning with warm soapy water using a soft cloth will help maintain the general appearance, plus an occasional application of a good wax polish will help to protect the finish (eg. Briwax Natural Creamed Beeswax).

The life of the lacquer can be affected by many environmental or atmospheric conditions, including sea, air and industrial pollution. Should the lacquered finish, start to break down please refer back to our website www.traditionalwindowfittings.co.uk for our direct contact details.

UNLACQUERED POLISHED BRASS

Although originally polished, if left untouched the finish will naturally age over a period of time and darken.

To retain the polished finish regular cleaning with a brand of metal polish (eg. Autosol or Brasso) will be required.

PLATED FINISHES

Regular cleaning with warm soapy water using a soft cloth will help to maintain the appearance, but if required a brand of chrome polish can be used (eg. Autosol)

LIVING FINISHES

Normal wear and handling will allow the raised areas to reveal the metal below helping to create an aged effect. An occasional application of a good beeswax polish can be gently applied if required (eg. Briwax Natural Creamed Beeswax).

OTHER FINISHES

Regular cleaning with warm soapy water using a soft cloth and an application of a good wax polish gently applied, will help to protect the finish (eg. Briwax Natural Creamed Beeswax).
